ADVICE SHEET 09

After wisdom tooth removal

Swelling, mouth opening, eating: what usually happens and what to do.

THE FIRST DAYS

- Apply cold to your cheeks for 10 minutes at a time, on the day and the day after.
- Sleep with your head slightly raised the first night.
- Do not spit, rinse or smoke for at least 48 hours.

WHAT IS NORMAL

- Swelling, sometimes bruising, peaking on day 2 or 3.
- Limited mouth opening for a few days.
- Moderate pain, relieved by the prescribed medication.

EATING

- Cold or lukewarm, soft or blended food for the first days.
- Gradually return to a normal diet.

CALL THE PRACTICE IF

- the pain gets worse after day 3;
- you have a fever;
- the bleeding does not stop despite 30 minutes of pressure.
