ADVICE SHEET 04

Living well with your new denture

Getting used to it, eating, speaking and caring for your denture every day.

THE FIRST WEEKS

- An adjustment period of a few days to a few weeks is normal.
- Start with soft food cut into small pieces, chewing on both sides.
- To get your natural speech back, read aloud.

IF IT RUBS

- Never adjust the denture yourself: book an appointment.
- Wear it for the few hours before the appointment so we can find the area that rubs.

DAILY CARE

- Clean it after each meal with a denture brush and mild soap, over a basin of water to avoid breakage.
- Also brush your gums and remaining teeth.
- At night, take it out and keep it clean and dry, unless told otherwise.

FOLLOW-UP

- A check-up at least once a year lets us check the fit of the denture and the health of your gums.
