ADVICE SHEET 07

Looking after your teeth during pregnancy

Why to see a dentist and what can be done during pregnancy.

WHY SEE A DENTIST

- Hormonal changes make gums more sensitive and more likely to bleed.
- A preventive dental check-up is covered by French national health insurance from the 4th month of pregnancy.

TREATMENT

- Dental treatment is possible during pregnancy, preferably in the second trimester.
- Local anaesthetic is possible. Always tell the practice you are pregnant.

DAY TO DAY

- After vomiting, rinse your mouth with water and wait before brushing your teeth.
- Limit sugary snacking.
